Interesting that Del Bonita dropped significantly and Carway picked up. I wonder whether people knew Del Bonita was open over the weekend.

Thanks Orlando. I believe Crystal in touch with CBSA regarding operational hours but not sure on volumes of traffic.
Darcy; worthwhile asking Crystal to follow up on this.
Thanks.

Yes, I noticed that about Del Bonita. I think the data from the Del Bonita traffic counter should be very close to the number of vehicles crossing the border, due to its proximity to the border.

Do you know if anyone has contacted the CBSA to see if they are keeping track of the number of vehicles crossing the border?

Hi Orlando, that is correct. Del Bonita is closed on the weekends.

These are their hours (note that the CBSA website is not current):

Canada:

9 am – 5 pm (Monday to Friday)

US:

9 am – 5 pm (Monday to Friday)

Hi Ranjit,

It was retrieved manually. Unfortunately, the cell coverage issue is out of our control. I understand that cell coverage is intermittent because this automated traffic recorder site is far from the nearest cell tower.

Thanks,
Oriando

Hi Ashley,

I spoke to the consultant and the soonest they can have someone onsite would be Sunday in the early afternoon. Their technician will depart Edmonton tomorrow morning and will retrieve the file manually, so they can then email the report to me. Either way, they will continue actively trying to retrieve the site by Carway online.

Thank you,

Orlando

Hi Ashley,

I will ask my consultant about manually retrieving the data. However, I would be surprised if they could make it today. The site is quite far from Edmonton and I am not sure on the consultant's views on flying during the pandemic.

I will ask the consultant if they are able and willing to travel and also agree on a timeline. I want to note that the consultant provides us this data on a monthly basis, so they are able to connect to it. It just may take a few days. I will ask what is a reasonable timeline to keep trying to connect remotely (e.g., one more day) before they travel, if they can travel, while stressing the pressing need for this data.

Thanks,

Orlando

Hi Robert

To follow-up on this request, Ranjit has confirmed that we would like the consultant to physically gather the data. If possible today it would be appreciated. If they can't do it today, can you please confirm when they can gather. Feel free to call me if you would like to discuss.

Thanks Robert. Yes I see that the closest one would be impacted by a number of other highways/traffic so I don't think that would provide useful information.

Hi Ashley,

The next closest ATR is some distance away and may have other traffic influences in the data. The location are found on the province's interactive traffic website.

<http://www.transportation.alberta.ca/mapping/>

 cid:image003.jpg@01D81A84.F3842A80

The black and white data symbols represent our automated traffic recorders collecting traffic counts 24/7.

As I mentioned to Ranjit yesterday, if they can't establish the cellular connection for Carway in the next few days, we may ask the contractor to drive to the site and manually upload the data for the past week.

Thanks,

Robert
